Er. Crittenden in Columbus.

The Hon. J. J. Crittenden reached Co-lumbes on Tuesday on his way home to Kentucky. A large concourse of citizens paid their respects to the distinguished statesman at his hotel, and at their urgent request he consented to address them in the evening. An audience assembled to hear him at the State House. The Journal

He spoke of the great contest before us; the suddenness with which it was precipitated upon us. But a few short months ago, said Mr. C., such a calamity as is now abrouding our country in gloom was un-thought of among the people. But now that we are involved in it we must meet it like men. It is not a war that is to be ecuted for the sake of warfareand ought be conducted with none of the common rbarities of war. It must nevertheless strength of the country and gird up the energies of our minds to this most mometons ceatest. And let it be prosecuted only for the purpose that it ought to be carried on and concluded for the restoration of our government and the Union. In any event it is a war that cannot last long. It will prove itself too oppressive upon all classes of our people to permit of its being long. It becomes, therefore, a duty to maintain this great Government and this magnificent land from the terrible calamity of disunion. This I would aim by all the powers of my life to prevent. Hence it is that I have just come from voting millions of money and hundreds of thousands of men, and in order that the issue may be decided more speedily and our erring brethren be united to us once more. For fellow citizens, I believe we shall be re-united.—And I have confidence in the belief that, instead of destroying or even weakening us, this war will make our Union stronger than ever before. it is a war that cannot last long. It will than ever before.

Mother and Daughter in a Unpleasant Predicament.

An occurrence has recently come to light which shows that, notwithstanding the clangor of arms, the vagaries of the God of Love are as mischievous as in the piping times of peace.

In a very fashionable street, not far from Union Square, there dwells a charming widow of thirty-six, with her no less charming daughter of seventeen. The widow had an abundance of this worlds' substance, and lived in luxurious style.

A few months since, a young man attached to a foreign consulate was introduced to the family, and became a constant visitor. Becoming enamoured of the daughter, he boldly confessed his attachment, and was considerably elated at finding his ardent feelings reciprocated. He made his intentions known to the widow, who consented but would not hear of any who consented, but would not bear of any marriage taking place for at least two years; alleging as an excuse for delay, that her daughter was "o'er young to marry Things went on as usual; the young man was of course a frequent visitor, and eventually a room was fitted up for his accommodation in the house. Within the past few weeks, however, the young lady imagined that she saw evidence of two great a familiarity between her mother and her lover. Stolen glances of affection were ex-changed, and secret meetings were almost of daily occurrence. Stung by the suppos-ed perfidy of her lover, the young lady the parties.

One evening this week, the lover, mother, and daughter were sitting together, when the daughter pleaded an engagement, and asked to be excused for an hour. She left the house, but returned in ten minetes .-Stepping softly to the parlor, she discovered that which left no doubt of the perfidy of both.

The scene which ensued can better be The scene which ensued can better be imagined than described. Nobly stifling her own feelings, the daughter insisted upon her mother's honor being vindicated, and yesterday morning the lover and mother were united in marriage. The daughter left the city, and is now living with her uncle, in Ulster county, completely estranged from her mother, and thoroughly disgusted with the perfidy of manhood.— New York Express.

Good! Give us Your 1 !- The following card issued by the Democratic Cen-tral Committee of Jefferson county, is taken from the Steubenville Bulletin:

THE DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE. For Jefferson Co., have, after consultation in all parts of the country, concluded not to issue any call for a Convention for choosing delegates to the Columbus Con-vention in August: We think this is not the time to arouse party strife. The Democracy of Jefferson Co. are united in the defence of our Constitution and Laws, and whatever may be our views on questions of policy, we merge them now in a desire to subdue rebellion and treason, and to-day —as when our immortal Jackson first uttered it, we inscribe on our banners, "The Union, it shall be preserved."

BRUTAL MURDER .- On the 18th of July, Mr. Preston Pickett, an influential planter of Egg Point. was shot by some person concealed behind a cluster of cottonwood bushes, at a distance of not more than fifteen or twenty paces. The murderer sup-posing Mr. Pickett killed, stepped from his ambush, but seeing him standing with pis-tol in hand, made his escape through a cornfield. Mr. P. returned to the hotel, which was about three hundred yards dis-tant, where he fainted from the loss of consequent upon his injuries. A ician was called in, Mr. Pickett's physician was called in, wounds were skillfully dressed, and he was wounds were skillfully dressed, and he was rapidly convalescing, when, on the following Wednesday night, his assassin, finding he was not mortally wounded, entered the room in the hotel where Mr. Pickett was lying, attended by his body servant, chased the boy out, and, placing the muzzle of a double-barreled shot-gun so close to Mr. Pickett as to burn the bed clothes on its discharge, fired both barrels into the body of the wounded and dying man, literally tearing him to pieces, and killing him instantly. The murderer escaped.—Louisville Journal.

AN INCIDENT,-A Massachusetts mar named Buck, recently visited the rebel prisoners at the Capitol, recognized his son, and fell senseless at his feet. The son was a teacher in Virginia, and had been impressed into the rebel service at the point of the bayonet. Senator wilson will take immediate steps to secure the release of the rebel against his own will.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only Scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Enurrive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Envsipelas, Pimples, Publics, Blairs and Boils, Tunous, Tetters and Salt Rheun, Scald Heap, Ringwom, Rheunatish, Syphillitic and Mercurial Diseases, Dropsy, Dysphysia, Demilit, and indeed, all Complaints arising yron Vitlated or Impurity of the blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

we are enabled here to offer the community a remedy which, while it cures the above complaints with certainty, is still perfectly harmless in any quantity. Such a remedy is invaluable in districts where these afflicting disorders prevail. This "Cunn" expels the miasmatic poison of Feven And Ague from the system, and prevents the development of the disease, if taken on the first approach of its premonitory symptoms. It is not only the best remedy ever yet discovered for this elass of complaints, but also the cheapest. The large quantity we supply for a dollar brings it within the reach of every body; and in billous districts, where Feven and Ague prevails, every body should have it and use it freely both for cure and protection. A great superiority of this remedy over any other ever discovered for the speedy and certain cure of Intermittents is that it contains no Quinine or mineral, consequently it produces no quintem or other injurious effects whatever upon the constitution. Those cured by it are left as healthy as if they had never had the disease.

they had never had the disease.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disarders arise from its irritation, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gont, Heodache, Hindeness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthme, Falpitation, Painful Affection of the Spicen, Hysterics, Pain in the Boucels, Code, Paralysis and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cura" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the malarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Intermittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.
